General Fund Diversion. An attempt was made—and defeated 21-19—to amend the general fund appropriation bill to divert a million dollars a year from the General Fund to help pay for highway bond interest and retirement. Rep. Percy K. Hanson (R-Gardiner) had introduced the amendment with the avowed intention of avoiding the need for raising license and registration fees. Rep. Jesse P. Fuller (R-South Portland) was a potent factor in defeat of the amendment when he told the House that Maine stands third among the states in per capita spending on roads, but only 45th in expenditures for education. He said that any general fund money that could be spared should go to the schools.

"Balanced Budget." The $86-million "balanced budget" appropriation bill went to the engrossment stage in the House on the 66th law-making day. The governor's supplementary budget, approaching $10-million, is still to come out of committee. The proposed financing for this document is an increase in the sales tax.

The Highway "Package." As the 29th week closed, only one final hurdle remained for the "package" of highway measures on which the administration and the legislative leadership are generally agreed upon. The package includes: A proposed $24-million bond issue; the $60-million general highway allocation bill, which runs over current revenue by about $1-million a year and proposed increases in the driver's license, in car registration fees, and increases in state costs for operating trucks and buses, the last all designed to pay costs of the proposed bond issue.

Reckless Homicide. An effort to bill legislation setting up a criminal charge in automobile fatalities, to be known as reckless homicide, was halted in the Senate with a 21-9 vote. Present law requires prosecution for manslaughter, a felony with a maximum 10 to 20 year prison sentence. The new charge would be a misdemeanor and would require proof of "reckless disregard for the safety of others."

The measure was filed by Rep. Francis E. Hancock (R-York) for the Highway Safety Committee and would provide for fines of $100 to $1,000, imprisonment for 30 days to 11 months, or both. The argument was made by Rep. Evans

by Chief Evans

Miss Elizabeth Clementson of England arrived in Oxford County Monday. The first part of her stay as an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate will be with the Robert Hastings family at East Bethel. There she will live as a member of the family, learning how people in this county live, and teaching her host family and other people in the community many things about her own country.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Clementson, she has two brothers and a sister. Her hobbies include singing and playing the piano and pipe organ, knitting, dancing, tennis and badminton.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

by Chief Evans

On June 6th at 9:00 a. m. the telephone company will convert to the dial system. For fire protection purposes a red network is being installed in town. There are five phones on the red network located at the following places: Chapin's Filling Station, Alice Smith, Roderick McMillin, Charles Freeman, and the Town Office. These phones are all on the same line with the same number for each phone, Vandyke 4-2211. In case of fire dial this number and one or more of the above listed phones will answer your call. Located at each red network phone is a button to blow the air whistle, signals as follows: 2 blasts of the air whistle repeated three times for fire within the village limits; 3 blasts of the air whistle repeated three times for fires outside of the village; 5 blasts of the air whistle repeated three times for emergency calls.

It is extremely important to the Fire Department as well as to the person calling that only the red network number Vandyke 4-2211 be used in reporting fires or calls for emergency help. Do not dial operator.

Cards are being made up to be distributed, which will give information on fire signals and the number to call which is already outlined to you in the preceding paragraphs.

Persons residing in the area served by the Tremont and Terrace exchanges and living in Bethel will also dial Vandyke 4-2211.

The State of Maine Publicity Bureau has reserved the period of June 17th to June 23rd for a display from Bethel. Any persons or business firms interested in contributing articles for this exhibit should contact the town office within the next two weeks.

It is my understanding that a successful exhibit was made last year with several local firms participating, as well as Gould Academy. Last year's exhibitors are invited to participate again as well as others who would like to exhibit for the first time.

This is an opportunity to get some free advertising for Bethel. A good display will show that we are a progressive and active community.

Mr. Vachon transported the items to Kittery last year and has kindly consented to do the same this year.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean.

Coming to Bethel in 1923, he bought an abandoned farm on Chandler Hill, which he completely renovated into a modern home. Until his health prevented he was in constant demand as an expert electrician in this community. During World War II he worked at the Portsmouth Navy yard as a civilian electrician.

For several years Mr. and Mrs. Kirk have been winter residents of Clearwater Beach, Florida.

GOVERNOR SIGNS FLUORINATION BILL

A bill to block repeated votes on whether to add fluoride to a municipal water supply was signed Monday by Gov. Muskie.

The amended form of the bill provides that if the voters approve fluoridation, their utility must install the equipment within nine months. Thereafter, no new vote on the question could be held within two years.

If a city or town voted it out later, the utility could continue to amortize the cost of the equipment. The bill will take effect 90 days after the Legislature adjourns.

The Bethel Evening Extension meeting as been postponed from June 11 to June 18. The subject will be "Bible in Everyday Life."

MPB LISTS OVER 125 SEASON ACTIVITIES

by Chief Evans

Maine vacationists will have a wide selection of activities to attend this spring, summer and fall according to the 1957 official "Maine Calendar of Events" published and distributed by the Maine Publicity Bureau.

The current calendar lists over 125 individual events of interest all over Maine including historical observances, open house days, fairs, race meets, fishing and sporting contests, art shows and others planned to attract the two million vacation-travelers expected to be visiting the Pine Tree State this year.

Maine's historical past will be commemorated in observances this summer at Palmyra, Jefferson, Stockton Springs, Thomaston, Bath, East Millinocket and Houlton.

Inquiries at the Publicity Bureau offices indicate a good travel year for Maine this season, and the demand for the "Maine Calendar of Events" from out-of-state planning Maine vacations is heavy as many of these schedule their trip around these events listed in the calendar.

The Bureau's Events Listing is revised monthly throughout the season and distributed by mail and over-the-counter at their information offices in Kittery, Portland, Augusta, Fryeburg, Bangor, and Radio City, New York.

BETHEL OFFICERS CAPTURE STATE SCHOOL ESCAPEES

Two boys from the State School for Boys, South Portland, were taken into custody late Sunday night in Bethel, where they had sought refuge in a tree. Detected in Bethel by Police Officer Albert Colton, they pursued them to Gilead where they smashed and abandoned the stolen car which they were traveling in.

With the help of State Trooper Kenneth Wing and Deputy Sheriff Albert Grover of Bethel, the boys were discovered in the tree where they fled when they thought they heard a wild cat.

ACROSS the DESK

From the Newark-Center-Gladstone, N. J. A footill town lived in fear of destruction. Every summer, when the mountain snow melted, each flood inundated the town. Bridges collapsed; houses were swept away; people drowned.

The townspeople got together to end this threat. They raised money and hired experts to construct a scheme of protection. This consisted of a series of dams and channels to trap the flood waters upstream and divert them around the town. Three floodgates controlled the system. By turning the floodgates to watch and work the floodgates.

For a time they did. Then, one after another, they found excuses. Their jobs were pressing; they didn't have time; they got it off or forgot about it. The gates remained unguarded.

One night a flash flood swept down the mountainside and wiped out the town.

The U. S. polo story is not unlike the story of this town. For years we lived under the shadow of polo paralysis. We spent time and money to find a preventive. Now that we have the safe vaccine—we ought to use it. Only one polo-susceptible person in ten is properly vaccinated. The polo season is upon us and we tremble in fear of epidemics. If we are to escape them, over 50 million Americans must be vaccinated. It takes three properly spaced Salk shots to set up maximum immunity. If you are under 40, don't wait till disaster strikes. Vaccinate at the earliest opportunity.

From the South Pasadena Review, South Pasadena, Calif.: If a stranger struck up an acquaintance with you on the street and offered to share a sizeable sum of money he said he had just found, wouldn't you be more than a little wary there was a catch to it?

What's more, suppose the stranger said that before he handed over the money you must give him an equal amount temporarily, just to show "good faith". Would you give him the money if you had it?

You're probably saying: Nobody would be stupid enough to do that! Well, brother, they do, and they do it every day of the year. This obvious trick has probably been the most successful of all lures to the public.

SGT. BARTLETT RATED M-1 RIFLE EXPERT

Army Sgt. Lindon U. Bartlett, 29, whose wife, Jennie, lives in Hanoi, recently qualified as expert in firing the M-1 rifle in Germany. A fire team leader in Company A of the 11th Airborne Division's 50th Infantry Sergeant Bartlett entered the Army in June 1954. He completed basic training in Fort Dix, N. J., and arrived in Europe in February 1955.

The sergeant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bartlett, Bethel.

POPPY MAKING GIVES WORK TO DISABLED

Memorial poppies which will be worn here on Poppy Day, May 25, have been made by disabled veterans of three wars at Togus, Mrs. Iola Forbes, Poppy Chairman of the Mount-Allen Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, announced today as the Auxiliary completed arrangements for the annual observance of Poppy Day here.

Making poppies to be worn in honor of their fallen comrades has given the hospitalized veterans interesting and beneficial employment during the winter and spring. The little red flowers of remembrance have been made for the Auxiliary in veterans hospitals throughout the country, and in poppy workrooms maintained by the Auxiliary to give employment to disabled veterans outside the hospitals.

"Poppy making helps brighten the dreary hospital hours and for many veterans contributes to recovery by providing an interesting occupation," said Mrs. Forbes. "The veterans are paid by the Auxiliary for the poppies they make and this gives them the encouraging experience of earning money once more of being able to send money home to their families. More poppies worn on Poppy Day means more employment for disabled veterans during the coming year."

Right against Communism. By curtailing its activities, we give the Russians just that much more advantage in spreading their tentacles throughout the world. The relatively easy for Congress to slash funds from an agency like CIA because it has no contribution in the U. S. But the consequences could be disastrous to the long run.

Small Business—I told the House before the House Bank and Commerce Committee on behalf of my bill to give the Small Business Administration permanent status.

This agency has done much to help the small businessman compete with large corporations in an age of big business.

For example in Maine the SBA has approved almost 12 million worth of business loans since 1952 and has helped small concerns obtain Government contracts worth over $15 million.

I considered the committee of the importance of small business in the economy of many states such as Maine. Of 2,000 industrial establishments in our state, all but about 100 employ less than 200 workers.

This also is true on a national basis. Over 90 per cent of the manufacturing establishments in this country hire less than 200 workers.

I also pointed out that contrary to the common impression, the number of small business has been increasing steadily in the past few years. In the period from 1947 to 1954, the number of manufacturing establishments employing less than 200 workers increased by 25,000, bringing the total to 184,000.

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

MOths, RUST, THIEVES
JESUS bids men to lay up their treasures beyond the reach of moths and rust and safe from the fitching of thieves.

It is bad to find that a beautiful garment has been marred by moths, that costly looks have been dulled by rust, and that a treasure in gold has been stolen by thieves. And men are constantly on the alert to save their treasure from moth and rust and thieves. Cedar chests, moth repellents, dry places with protection from moisture, and locks and bars are depended upon for preservation.

But a moth-eaten garment is not as bad as a moth-eaten heart—a heart that is eaten by lust and greed. And worse than rusted tools are tarnished principles and ideals, a tarnished life, ruined by the touch of evil.

So Jesus bids men to lay up their treasures beyond the reach of time and its corrupting elements. Here is an instructive contrast between the material and the immaterial. There is wisdom in so using the things of time that they shall minister to temporal need and happiness and be transmuted into treasures beyond the reach of earthly ruin.

pleas worn on Poppy Day means more employment for disabled veterans during the coming year."

Small Business—I told the House before the House Bank and Commerce Committee on behalf of my bill to give the Small Business Administration permanent status.

This agency has done much to help the small businessman compete with large corporations in an age of big business.

For example in Maine the SBA has approved almost 12 million worth of business loans since 1952 and has helped small concerns obtain Government contracts worth over $15 million.

I considered the committee of the importance of small business in the economy of many states such as Maine. Of 2,000 industrial establishments in our state, all but about 100 employ less than 200 workers.

This also is true on a national basis. Over 90 per cent of the manufacturing establishments in this country hire less than 200 workers.

I also pointed out that contrary to the common impression, the number of small business has been increasing steadily in the past few years. In the period from 1947 to 1954, the number of manufacturing establishments employing less than 200 workers increased by 25,000, bringing the total to 184,000.

TODAY'S Meditation

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, May 23

Read Luke 11:15-17.
Seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and his righteousness. (Matthew 6:33.)

A GOVERNMENT office holder sought power, and found himself enmeshed in fraud and thievery. Another man with health, education, wealth, died young. Fortune spent, he swept barroom floors for the price of the liquor he craved. A woman used questionable methods to gain a fine estate, only to die and leave it for others to enjoy.

When shall we have faith to believe Christ's promise that all in life will be provided when we truly seek to do His will?

When man shifts without God, he builds on shifting sand. Too often a lifetime of labor leaves one broken in defeat only because the goal was selfish and that of a man's own designing.

We do not need better schemes, not more prestige. Instead the world needs Christ.

Christ will come into the heart of man when invited. Perhaps he waits—sorrowfully—for us to admit Him, to help Him in a greater way.

Prayer
We thank Thee, heavenly Father, for the choice Thou hast given us to seek first Thy Kingdom rather than things that lure to lesser goals. Lead us, Father, and in falling short betray our brother, may we have courage and the will to do Thy bidding. In Thy name we pray. Amen.

Thought For The Day
Here am I, Lord; use me.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual—National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

A controversy has been going on, in and out of governmental circles, as to whether or not our country is leading the position of leadership in the development of peaceful uses of atomic energy with particular reference to atomic power for the generation of electricity. That statement opened a recent speech by a man who can speak with authority—Commissioner Harold Vance of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission. Mr. Vance did a noteworthy job of clearing the air, and correcting certain misconceptions.

England now has a nuclear power plant of commercial size in operation, and it has been argued that this in itself proves that we are safely lagging in the atomic race. But Mr. Vance takes a very different view. England used to be a major coal exporter, and these exports accounted for much of her foreign exchange. But the production has swung to the other side, and coal is now going to Newcastle. The last year England had to import about 10 per cent of the coal used in her power plants. This proportion is destined to rise rapidly to as much as 50 per cent in 1975 unless the situation can be alleviated with nuclear power.

The imported coal has to be paid for in hard currency, an asset which is in dangerously short supply to prevent day Britain. Mr. Vance states, "Thus through force of circumstances economic to change."

Congressman ROBERT HALE

Going Too Far—The Democratic-controlled House wants to lay its hands on the atomic energy bill. The work which it wanted to do was mostly of a nature to check the progress of the bill.

This plan was prepared by the President's Atomic Energy Commission. It was a bill which would have given the Atomic Energy Commission the power to control the atomic energy industry.

Chairman of the committee on the bill, Mr. Hale, said that the bill was a "bill of rights" for the atomic energy industry.

The bill would have given the Atomic Energy Commission the power to control the atomic energy industry.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT
OPENS ROADSIDE PICNIC
AREAS FOR SEASON

The State Highway Commission opened its roadside picnic areas for the season last week. All the areas have been put in first class order with tables and barrels freshly painted.

With each succeeding year the roadside picnic areas have become more popular with the travelling public. In order to take care of the increased use, several new areas have been established and improvements made in many others. Forty-five new shelters have been erected so that people can picnic in comfort during damp days as well as have shade during sunny weather. Fireplaces are now being built in many areas to provide a safe place to kindle fires for those who wish to cook a hot meal.

The State Highway Department now operates about two hundred roadside picnic areas throughout the state.

THE LEGISLATURE

ment of Sen. Alton A. Lessard (D-Androscoggin) that while juries are "reluctant" to convict under the manslaughter law, something must be done to reduce highway deaths, prevailed.

General Appropriations and Highway Allocations. The question as to how much of the appropriation for State Police activity should come from the General Fund was the only matter debated as the Senate passed to be engrossed the general appropriations bill and the general Highways allocations bill.

The first, which will finance the governor's balanced budget, carries a tag of $50-million; the second totals $50-million and is tied in with a $24-million bond issue.

Sen. William S. Silsby (R-Hancock) proposed that the General Fund be used for the whole State Police appropriation, arguing that if it is logical to use General Fund money to pay 50 percent of the share, it is logical to pay the whole bill from that source. This year's highway allocations measure has the Police on a 50-50 basis, instead of 90 percent from the highway fund and 10 percent from the General Fund.

The Senate rejected Silsby's amendment 22-4, following expressed opposition by Sen. Roy U. Sinclair (R-Somerset), the chairman of the Appropriations Committee, and Sen. Seth Low (R-Knox), the Senate Majority Leader.

Probation and Parole. The Judiciary Committee issued a report endorsing a new state wide system of probation and parole, after redrafting an earlier measure. The unanimously approved report carried a lengthy amendment which offered the following provisions: Recommendations by the State Board of Probation and Parole to the governor and council on pardons, commutations and reprieves; appointment of the probation and parole director by the Commissioner of Institutional Services, with the Board's approval; continuation in office of the present Parole Board and all present full-time parole and probation officers as long as their work satisfies the director.

The original measure, reflecting the interests of the League of

MRS. MUSKIE FEATURED IN
SATURDAY EVENING POST

Mrs. Jane Muskie finds that her husband's first term as Governor of Maine has made many changes in the lives of her family and she expects the second term will bring more of the same.

She outlined her thinking in the current (May 23) issue of The Saturday Evening Post, in which the 39-year-old First Lady tells of the problems she has faced as the youngest governor's wife in the country.

Her article, "So We Moved Into the Governor's Mansion," says that when her husband became Maine's first Democratic chief executive in two decades to hold that office their four-room Cape Cod cottage at 17 Silvermount Street, Waterville, suddenly had walls of glass. Their lives were a public matter.

Mrs. Muskie relates that she was graduated from high school only nine years before and had never been in Blaine House, the 28-room, seven bath, Governor's mansion. Because the house is maintained by public funds, she explains, it is open to the public. Every afternoon visitors are permitted to wander through, visiting such rooms as the formal parlor, the state dining room and the library.

"I think the thing that worried me most before moving in was the

Conservation Farming
In Oxford County

by Douglas L. Marston.
Soil Conservation Service

Fryeburg Academy completed 600 feet of riverbank erosion control on their farm last week. This was a cooperative trial project between the Academy, the Soil Conservation Service and the Oxford County Soil Conservation District.

The work was done by the students of the Academy's Vocational Agriculture class under the direction of Andrew Welch of the Academy and Douglas Marston of the Soil Conservation Service.

The eroding banks of the Haco River were sloped to a 45 degree angle. This was all hand work performed by the students with shovels. About 15 tons of manure were applied to the sloped banks and 200 pounds of Urea containing 45% Nitrogen was applied. The area was seeded to 20 pounds of Reed Canary grass and raked in.

A mulch of 2 tons of hay was applied to the area to aid the grass seed to become established.

This was the first project of this type ever carried out in the County and it is intended as a trial to determine the possibilities of using this method to control one of our most serious erosion problems.

Mr Welch and the students of Fryeburg Academy Vocational Agriculture class are to be complimented on the fine job they did on this project for the future benefit of conservation here in Oxford County.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Hutton, Wyo. Ranger: "The states and the local school districts are doing a much better job building schools than the Federal government ever thought they could... We have the wherewithal, the knowledge, the local control over our American schools. Let's keep Washington's finger out of the education pie."

Basset, Nehr, Leader: "At the present time with the greatest prosperity our nation has ever known nothing is being done to reduce our national debt, but rather the spending is at an accelerated rate. It is said the high rate of taxation is a curb to inflation. Perhaps it is, but for our money we would prefer to see some of that money used to retire the national debt rather than spend on 'programs'."

McDonald, W. Va. Examiner: "No matter what kind of an income taxpayer you are, about one in thirty of you will get audited this year. And that means you'll have to prove a lot of things—especially those unusual deductions and stuff like that. They may even audit your bank account. But you probably won't have to go to Atlanta even if you are a teeny bit crooked. The odds are about two in 10,000 after you get caught. Just pay up, pay the penalty and fine and go and sin no more."

W. John, Kansas, News: "Divine law does not suggest that the poor like and the wealthy pay half their substance. Yet in this nation we are witnessing an accelerating tendency towards taking a larger proportion from those who have more to pay the bill for those who have less."

BETHEL GIRL SCOUTS AND BROWNIES ENJOY PLAY DAY

The Bethel Evening Extension Bethel Brownie Scouts and Intermediate Girl Scouts was held on Saturday, May 18, in the Douglass yard in Mayville from 10:00 to 2:00. There were nearly 75 girls present: Brownie Troop 2 with 15 girls and leaders, Elizabeth Wheeler and Ruth Kittredge; Brownie Troop 3 with 18 girls and leaders, Betty Robertson and Beatrice Lowell; Brownie Troop 7 with 18 girls and leaders, Virginia Keniston, Doris Lowell, and Monique Rolfe; Intermediate Troop 1, Patrol 1, with six girls and leaders, Alice Kimball and Beatrice Brown; Patrol 2 with 10 girls and leaders, Virginia Keniston and Barbara D. Brown; Patrol 3 with four girls and leader, Faith Brown. Transportation was furnished by the leaders and mothers and was very much appreciated.

The program for the day was as follows: Singing and dividing into game groups; Treasure hunt for all Scouts; With Wanda Tibbitts finding the "Pot of Gold" which she shared with all the Scouts. She also received a prize. The rest of the morning was spent playing games which the following committee had planned: Faith Brown, Virginia Keniston, Elizabeth Wheeler and Virginia Mundy. Necessaries were eaten at noon with Barbara Brown serving the milk and ice cream.

Following lunch there was group singing. The Horseshoe with Flag Ceremony with Beatrice Brown in charge was held, after which they paraded around the yard, practicing for Memorial Day parade.

Linda Paine played the snare drum. Colors were presented by Judy Currier, American Flag, with guards Lorraine Kames and Diana Douglas; World Flag, Martha Keniston; Troop Flag, Norma Kimball with guards, Cynthia Freeman and Jack Saunders. A most wonderful day came to a close with the Closing Circle and Taps.

Each girl had a number and throughout the day there was a drawing of numbers which entitled the lucky number to a token. Those having the lucky numbers were: Linda Felt, Wendy Wheeler, Sue Wheeler, Donna Bressell, Judy Lapham, Betty Stevens, Sue Kneeland, Diane Lothrop, and Barbara Hutchinson. We all owe a great deal to Mr. and Mrs. Dana Douglas for the use of their yard which was an ideal spot for the occasion.
